

ALZHEIMER'S DISEASE AND RELATED DEMENTIA CONFERENCE

Dr. Peter Graf is a Professor of Psychology and Director of the Memory and Cognition Laboratory at University of British Columbia in Vancouver.

Dr. Graf will be presenting on various mental acuity assessment techniques that can be used by anyone who works with or cares for people with Alzheimer's, dementia and other related disorders. These assessment techniques identify what types of creative expressions are most effective in helping the individual maintain their cognitive abilities.
